Dr. Roger E. Batzel
Director
Lawrence Livermore National Laboratory
Livermore, California

Dear Roger,

I want to thank you for the considerable time and effort you expended in arranging the successful briefings and luncheon on 2 August. Please express my appreciation to George H. Miller, Richard J. Briggs, Robert T. Andrews, William E. Wright, and Lamar W. Coleman for their insightful and informative presentations. It was a great pleasure to meet with you and your staff at the Lawrence Livermore National Laboratory.

It is very gratifying to know there exists in the scientific community the support you have personally demonstrated for the Agency's mission. In my remarks, I hope the examples provided of U.S. scientific contributions to our work did not understate their utility. Indeed your contributions are crucial inputs to our attempts to solve the very complex problems which our nation faces.

Sincerely,
